

Provisional Psychologist

YEG Psychology is a growing practice of independent psychologists located on the south side of Edmonton, Alberta. In Spring 2022, the practice will be expanding into a beautiful new space located in the desirable Keswick area. Our psychologists have extensive experience in supervision and evidence-based treatment, utilizing a variety of therapeutic modalities.

What we offer:

- Unlimited and free supervision by two doctoral-level psychologists
- Competitive compensation system
- Consideration for full or partial reimbursement of formal continuing education and training programs
- Client referrals including individuals and couples
- Opportunities for peer consultation with other provisional and registered psychologists
- Practice management software allowing the booking of appointments, reminders, remote note-taking, and billing with ease
- Privacy-compliant platform to meet with clients virtually
- Opportunities for psychoeducational assessments
- Experience working with various client issues
- Extensive knowledge working with insurance companies and return to work services

Qualifications:

- Master's degree or higher in a psychology-related field
- Active provisional registration with the College of Alberta Psychologists
- Maintenance of professional liability insurance
- Able to work independently but also collaboratively within a team
- Experience with crisis management and/or suicide intervention training
- Interest in evidence-based approaches to working with clients
- Interest in working with individuals and couples
- Excellent verbal and written skills

Interested candidates are encouraged to review our website at www.yeg-psychology.com and submit applications through email to info@yeg-psychology.com. In your application, please include a detailed letter expressing interest and a current CV.